7:05 PM	Introductions
7:10 PM	Presentation: Robin's Reach Robin's Reach conducts in-field effectiveness monitoring before, during, and after restoration projects with the aid of community scientists. Research has shown that, if properly conducted, community scientists have the capacity to provide reliable data on the ecological health of wetlands. Robin's Reach is committed to collecting, analyzing, and distributing this data for the benefit of the community and the environment with which they interact. We are currently seeking to forge partnerships with Portland area nonprofits engaged in restoration work.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Scott Smith, Executive Director ○ Shannon Hubler, Science Committee Chair
